DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-8, 13-14, and 20, drawn to the structure of an electronic circuit where the conduction state of a transistor is dependent upon accumulated charge in a capacitor and the supplying of current to an element is dependent upon a transistor for outputting data, classified in class 345, subclass 204.
 - II. Claims 15-19, and 9-12, drawn to an electro-optical device used for displaying different gray scale methods such as generating data voltage for low-power and non-low-power mode, and using the gray scale method or digital data for setting luminance, classified in class 345, subclass 690.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as controlling the timing for supply current to the display element and having the conduction state of a transistor set in accordance with the accumulated charge in a capacitor; invention II has separate utility such as digital data setting the luminance and generating digital data for low-power and non-low-power consumption mode. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Art Unit: 2675

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to on February 16, 2006 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
